ORCHESTRATE YOUR GIVING

Donating to Symphony Nova Scotia has many benefits, but for our subscribers, the ultimate reward is evident at every performance. Please add a donation to your ticket order today.

"As an adult, I really don't know a life without the Symphony. I go to concerts and see musicians that I've come to know personally. I've seen how their work has evolved over the years. I've made many friends at the Symphony, and music is a connection that strengthens friendships."

"The love of music can lead you to many places, but when we have a fine orchestra in our own small city, we have a lot to be thankful for, and we must do what we can to keep it."

– Shirley Dean, member of Women for Music, subscriber, and donor

"Ticket sales don't even come close to covering the costs of putting on concerts. If you are able to contribute a little extra to the Symphony, you are helping with operating costs and also helping to keep the Symphony alive for future generations."

– Suzanne Rigden, acclaimed Canadian opera singer and Symphony donor

Symphony Nova Scotia is grateful to all of our subscribers for your passion and dedication. Making a donation helps us bring the best orchestral music and outreach programs to our community.
